

The State Fair is not Sectional.

The Tampa Tribune of Sunday replies to a recent criticism of the Democrat as follows:

"The Democrat says the State Fair is sectional 'only in a sectional sense,' and intimates that it cannot obtain exhibits from all parts of the State because of the geographical location of Tampa. The Democrat is respectfully referred to the fact that exhibits from every section of Florida are now to be seen at the State Fair and that there isn't a product of importance credited to Florida's soil that cannot be found in very creditable quantity and quality under the roof of the big main exhibit building. The fact that geographical location isn't everything is demonstrated by a comparison of the Fairs now in progress at Tampa and Jacksonville. Jacksonville is naturally supposed more convenient to the greater part of the State than is Tampa, yet Jacksonville has nothing like the exhibits that Tampa has, and, although Jacksonville is nearer to West Florida than Tampa by hundreds of miles, Tampa has West Florida exhibits and Jacksonville has not.

"Geographical location has little to do with the success of Fairs—it's the Fair itself that counts. If sufficient attractions are offered, people will come from the remotest corners of the State—and that has been the experience of Tampa with the State Fair. In the 12,000 people who visited the grounds Friday, for instance, were Pensacola and Miamians, North, West and East Florida people, as well as South Florida people.

"Tampa has been able to draw people to its State Fairs where other cities, making much more pretension, have failed to draw them from their own immediate neighborhood. The longer the trip, the better the pleasure-seekers like it as a general rule. It gives them an opportunity to get away from home and see what the people of other sections of the State are doing and what the country looks like. Besides, Tampa isn't so remote as the Live Oak Democrat may imagine.

"We have been living in hopes throughout this fair that the editor of the Democrat would come to Tampa so that he would be able to recognize its position as the center of the State in attractiveness, life, progress and prosperity, if not geographically. When he does come, we will have the pleasure of showing him that the State Fair is not restricted to any one section of Florida or to any one section of the United States, for that matter. The Fair, with its unequalled exhibits, its fine amusement attractions and its exciting horse-racing, is a drawing card of remarkable proportions and, one day's peep at the fair will convince even the Live Oak Democrat of this fact."

Pretty Dog-goned Cold.

The blizzard which struck us last Friday afternoon was the worst that has hit us in several years. Icicles a yard long and thick as a man's arm hung in festoons from Beach, Rogers & Co's tank from Saturday night till Monday morning, and when a citizen had business on the streets he turned up his coat collar and went in a hurry. The blizzard developed the fact that "Major Ozone," of "fresh air" fame, lives right here in DeFuniak as well as in the funny pages of the Sunday papers, and while the weather was so blamed cold Sunday as to make Dante's Inferno look as comfortable as a ham sandwich to a hungry hobo, the local "Major Ozone" might have been observed standing around on the street corners, with his old snout as purple from cold as a ripe egg-plant, trying to explain to everyone who was fool enough to stop and parley with him how delightfully invigorating and "fresh" the air was. He is the same old dunce who comes tearing into your office on a cold day and leaves the door open. As a rule he'd swim the lake to tell a "whopper" rather than sit by a comfortable fire and speak the truth. Sunday night we hunted up all the blankets, covers, rugs and old clothes we could find and piled them on our bed, and still our teeth chattered and "King David" got no heat. About 3 o'clock Monday morning we gave up trying to sleep, built us a fire and spent the remainder of the night with ourself. We like fresh air as well as the average citizen, but when it gets so plentiful that you have to dig your way through it with a pickaxe, please excuse us.—DeFuniak Herald.

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup tastes nearly as good as maple sugar. It cures the cold by gently moving the bowels and at the same time it is soothing for throat irritation, thereby stopping the cough. Sold by Live Oak Drug Co.

Gumption on the Farm.

It gets to be an old story to read every year about the importance of buying good seed; and yet, thousands of men think they are saving money by getting poor seed. It is a great mistake. Inferior seed almost always has weed seed in it. It cost to reclean good seed, and that is one reason why it is so high in price; but we had better pay a little more than to have our farms all grown up to weeds. The best is none too good.

An hour of hard work getting a stone out of the public road is well spent, even if nobody thanks you for it.

Talk over your plans with your wife as you sit around the evening fire. You will be surprised to find how sound her advice is.

For a farm covering, good barnyard manure is much better than a mortgage; and judiciously applied the former will speedily remove the latter.

Here it is February, and in almost no time the rush of spring work will be on. We had better get ready for it by doing all the odd jobs we can now.

Far above the production of cotton and corn and hay and potatoes is the growth and cultivation of character; for, after all, this is the main purpose of life.

Have you done your best and been beaten? Keep a stiff upper lip. Do a little better than your best this year. You will win; only be true, fair and square.

A mule may never be known to kick and yet around his heels is no place for small children; for after the explosion regrets won't mend the pieces, nor clubs better the mule.

If you know a good thing tell your neighbor about it. It will help him about his work, and it surely cannot do you any harm. Bottled-up goodness soon turns sour and spoils.

Smokehouse at small cost: Needing a smokehouse I boarded up a corner of an outbuilding, fitted in a door, hung it by leather hinges, and ran a pipe from an old sheet-iron stove to the smokehouse. Result: Cool smoke, little danger of sitting building on fire; and a chunk of green hickory will smoke all winter.—Farm Journal.

ANSWERS EVERY CALL.

Live Oak People Have Found That This is True.

A cold, a strain, a sudden wrench. A little cause may hurt the kidneys.

Spells of backache often follow. Or some irregularity of the urine. A certain remedy for such attacks. A medicine that answers every call. Is Doan's Kidney Pills, a true specific.

Many Live Oak people rely on it. Here is Live Oak proof.

L. H. Cone, Ohio avenue, Live Oak, Fla., says: "When I was eighteen years old I had a severe fall and from that time on my back was very weak. Severe pains would often dart through my sides and kidney regions and any slight cold I contracted would always make my suffering worse. The kidneys also were disordered, the secretions being unnatural in appearance and at times very scant. A friend recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to me and procuring a box from the Suwannee Drug Co., I began their use. They took the lameness out of my back and regulated the action of the kidney secretions. I feel that I owe much to this valuable remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Dr. T. A. Bailey, City.

Dear Sir:—I am very much pleased with the work you did for me. Owing to the extreme dread of the dental chair, I had put off my work from time to time and I believe had it not been for your gentleness and painless methods, I would not have been able to endure the pain usually inflicted in such operations. Others would profit by securing your services.

Very truly yours,
FRANK COOPER.

ARMOUR FERTILIZERS are made from the by-products of the slaughtering of hogs and cattle at the large packing houses in the West. By using them you return to the land the elements of fertility which have been removed from the soil by the animals and digested by them and thus rendered thoroughly available for the use of your crops. There is no other form of fertilizer that will take its place.
